

Departamento de Linguística
Faculdade de Filosofia, Letras e Ciências Humanas
Universidade de São Paulo

The Africa-Brazil continuum: Lectures in honor of Margarida Petter

November 21 – 23, 2018

Room 14 – Prédio de Filosofia e Ciências Sociais

Program

Wednesday, November 21

- 1:30-2:00pm – Opening – Prof. Maria Arminda do Nascimento Arruda, Director of the Faculty of Philosophy, Letters and Human Sciences
- 2:00-2:45pm – African Linguistics at USP: the role of Margarida Petter – Prof. José Luiz Fiorin
- 2:45-3:30pm – Margarida Petter's contribution to the Center of African Studies (CEA) – Prof. Tania Macêdo, Director of CEA

3:30-4:00pm – Break

- 4:00-6:00pm – Why has Brazil not developed a creole. – Prof. Salikoko S. Mufwne, University of Chicago

Thursday, November 22

- 8:00-10:00am – Eurafrican interactions based on Kust-Portuguese – Prof. Konstanze Jungbluth, Europa-Universität Viadrina Frankfurt (Oder)

10:00-10:30 - Break

- 10:30am-12:00 – Plans for the future – Prof. Alexander Cobbinah, Department of Linguistics, Faculty of Philosophy, Letters and Human Sciences/USP

12:00-2:00pm – Lunch

- 2:00-4:00pm – Aja-Tado, Mina-Jeje, Dahomey: A linguistic trail - Part 1, Prof. Enoch O. Aboh, Universiteit van Amsterdam

Friday, November 23

- 8:00-10:00am – Aja-Tado, Mina-Jeje, Dahomey: A linguistic trail - Part 2, Prof. Enoch O. Aboh, Universiteit van Amsterdam

10:00-10:30am - Break

- 10:30am-12:30: Língua de Preto in early modern times: Usage and accommodation in dialogue, Prof. Konstanze Jungbluth, Europa-Universität Viadrina Frankfurt (Oder)

12:30-2:30pm: Lunch

- 2:30-4:30pm – The (potential) contribution of genetic creolistics to evolutionary linguistics, Prof. Salikoko S. Mufwne, University of Chicago

4:30-5:00pm – Break

- 5:00-6:00pm – African linguistics in Brazil, Prof. Margarida M.T. Petter, Department of Linguistics, Faculty of Philosophy, Letters and Human Sciences/ USP